Who is an Enrolled Agent?

Enrolled agents are just like attorneys and CPAs with two main differences. Enrolled Agents are specialized in taxation whereas attorneys or CPAs may or may not specialize in taxes. They may not be familiar with yearly amendments to the tax laws. More importantly, CPAs and attorneys may go on with their practice for years without ever updating their tax knowledge. Enrolled Agents must complete 72 hours of Continuing Education courses

Enter into a career that can provide you with good income for life!

“Enrolled Agents have unlimited practice rights before the IRS, which means they can represent clients for ANY tax matter.”
