Who is an Enrolled Agent?

Enrolled agents are just like attorneys and CPAs with two main differences. Enrolled Agents are specialized in taxation whereas attorneys or CPAs may or may not specialize in taxes. They may not be familiar with yearly amendments to the tax laws. More importantly, CPAs and attorneys may go on with their practice for years without ever renewing their knowledge on taxes. Enrolled Agents must complete 72 hours of Continuing Education courses every three years.

Enter into a career that can provide you with financial security for life!

“Enrolled Agents have unlimited practice rights before the IRS, which means they can represent clients for ANY tax matter.”
